Pastor Jeremy's Think Tank

Reclaiming "Us"

I've accumulated plenty of memories with my son, Daniel, during his four years on this earth - more than most of you would care to know, I'm certain. As we all know, Daniel has no shortage of confidence when it comes to life and loves to tell his stories and say things that just make you laugh. He's brought our family and our church much joy. One of his memorable routines began shortly after moving to Traverse City, when each day he would "pick out" his own clothes to wear. He would get dressed and then confidently come out and ask, "How do I look? Good?" Or sometimes he would come out and just proclaim to the world, "I loook goood!" After such a proclamation he would walk around "modeling" whatever he was wearing until all recognized that he did indeed look good. (How many of you are laughing or at least smiling at this picture in your head?)

For many of us, I imagine there are times when we look in the mirror and don't proclaim that we look good. We remember the days of better health, better looks, more hair, fewer bags under the eyes and clothes that had a better fit. I know this is true of me! Other individuals aren't concerned about their looks but instead wonder how they got into such despair and became bound by the chains of addiction, work and one relationship after another that still leaves them unfulfilled and damaged.

The harsh answer is this: the change didn't happen overnight but instead was a slow fade into the present reality. For me, I didn't gain the extra 15 pounds overnight, because if I did, I would have stopped it. Instead, it has come on me over the years, one pound at a time. We arrive at addiction and sinful behavior not by great leaps, most of the time, but by small decisions over time that leads us down a path we never intended to be on.

Scripture teaches us this truth as we look through the pages of the Old Testament. We may be amazed as we read some of the acts in the book of Judges because we may wrongly assume that everything took place in the span of a few years instead of the many decades. Or as one continues to the books of Samuel, Kings and Chronicles, the mood continues to grow more and more somber. The reader of this history should be left to ask, "How did this all happen?" How did the nation of Israel, God's People, go from great devotion and love for Him as they enter the Promise Land, to almost complete denial of Him and His ways. The prophets teach us it was completed by one small decision after another until they finally didn't look anything like the nation God called them to be. Hence, why God told Cain that he must be on alert because, "Sin is crouching at your door; it desires to have you, but you must rule over it." (Genesis 4.7) Peter, later in the Bible, would encourage all of us to, "Be alert and of sober mind. Your enemy the devil prowls around like a roaring lion looking for someone to devour." (1 Peter 5.8)

What is true of individuals can also be true of organizations. Sometimes organizations and churches get to a point where they no longer "look good" or recognize themselves. When this happens it typically comes from many years and by decisions, that, at the time, seemed to be "good."

I believe that this is the case with us as a church. We do not always "look good" in our own eyes when we remember where we've been. But fortunately, our future does not need to remain in our present reality. We must begin the task of reclaiming what it means to be us, First Baptist Church of Traverse City. The road of reclaiming our identity, vision and mission will NOT happen overnight but it will happen if we want it to.

Our first step in reclaiming our identity is our Camp Discovery Family Bible School that's scheduled for July 19 through July 23. We have a long legacy of serving families and children in our community that has been lost through time. Our history says that more than 90 kids were once present with all their joy and energy. I hope that you will help us reclaim our identity by doing a couple of things: first, by praying for our Camp Discovery each and every day through July 23. This is crucial because without prayer our efforts are in vain. Second, be part of the week as a volunteer with the kids or in the adult class. Third, intentionally and personally invite families and children to attend Camp Discovery. This invitation must be done personally if we expect people to respond. Lastly, it's time we start to consider the next steps on the path of reclamation as we move forward to a brighter future. We must pray, discern, and act differently! The path forward is hard but it is worth it. Please let me know your ideas on how we can move forward together.

Thank you for answering the call for mission giving in the US and abroad! God has worked marvelous deeds with First Baptist Church missions - and in the hearts of our congregation. These missions have helped people come to faith in Jesus, grow in their relationships with God, and change their worlds through the power of the Spirit. These missions include:

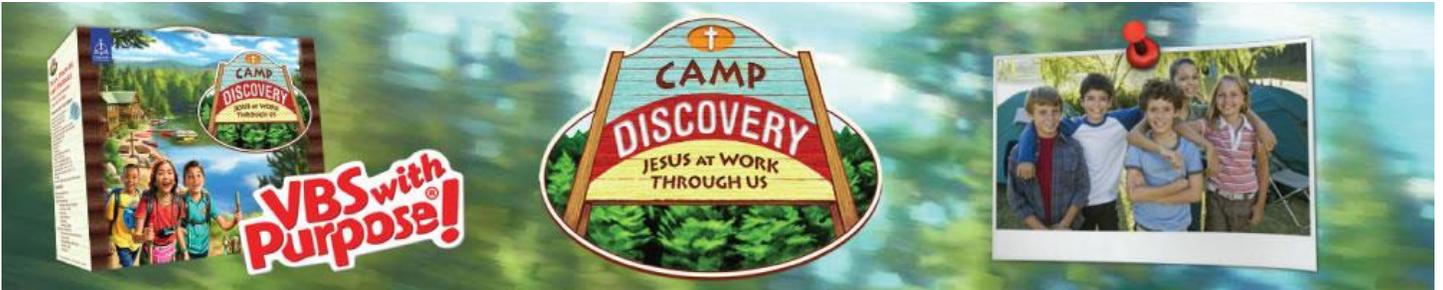

- Support of important ABC offerings such as America For Christ and One Great Hour of Sharing
- Support of the General American Baptist ministries missions –Support of retired ministers and missionaries
- Support of World Missions - including Jeni Pedzinski, the Kalkman family, and more than 1,800 other missionaries in more than 70 countries including earthquake-ravaged Nepal.
- Support of missions specific to American Baptist Churches of Michigan
- Support for our American Baptist Women's Love Gifts
- Support of Love in the Name of Christ in Grand Traverse County – helping our neighbors in need.

“Declare His glory among the nations,
His marvelous deeds among all peoples.”
